

Islamic Schools: Are They Preparing Children for Life Ahead?

SATURDAY, APRIL 20 @ 3:45–5:00 PM

ISNA Education Forum, Room LaSalleA
Westin O'Hare Hotel, 6100 N. River Rd
Rosemond, IL 60018

Are weekend Islamic schools preparing children for life ahead? It's a big question—and the title of ISPU's 2018 report, published last fall. In collaboration with the John Templeton Foundation, we brought together publishers, teachers, and researchers with expertise in Islamic schools to create concrete recommendations—ones that will help schools promote student character development. At the ISNA Education Forum, report author Faiqa Mahmood will present best practices for Islamic school curricula, instructor professional development, school administration, technology in the classroom, and more. Whether you're a mosque leader, Islamic weekend school teacher, or concerned parent, this research is for you.
