

MUSLIMS IN NEW YORK CITY:

Lessons from the Past, Visions for the Future

WHEN: MONDAY, JUNE 10 @ 6:30 PM

WHERE: BROOKLYN HISTORICAL SOCIETY

128 Pierrepont St, Brooklyn, NY 11201

Muslims have lived, worked, and prayed in New York City for well over a century, establishing it as a major center of Muslim American life and culture. Brooklyn Historical Society Oral Historian and Muslims in Brooklyn Project Director Zaheer Ali, author of Being Muslim: A Cultural History of Women of Color in American Islam Sylvia Chan-Malik, and Principal Investigator for ISPU's Muslims for American Progress–NYC project Elisabeth Becker share their research on this rich heritage, and consider the ways contemporary Muslim American experiences reflect and refract that history.

To RSVP, visit brooklynhistory.org/events. Registration is free with the promo code ISPU.

SPEAKERS

Elisabeth Becker
MAP-NYC Principal
Investigator

Zaheer Ali
Brooklyn Historical Society Oral Historian
& Muslims in Brooklyn
Project Director

Sylvia Chan-Malik
Author of Being Muslim: A Cultural History of Women of Color in American Islam

